

Columbia Gorge
 Fisheries and Watershed Science Conference
 April 18, 2017
 8:30 AM – 4:00 PM
 Registration Open at 8:00 AM

SPEAKERS' LIST

Bill Sharp, Yakama Nation Fisheries	Opening Comments
Davis Washines, Chairman, Yakama Nation General Council	Invocation
Charles Hudson, Columbia River Inter-Tribal Fish Commission, and Phil Chang, Office of Oregon Sen. Jeff Merkley	Replacing Long-lost Tribal Housing along the Columbia River: Recent Federal and Congressional Action
Brett VandenHeuvel, Columbia Riverkeeper	Oil-by-Train: Crude Oil Shipments through the Columbia Gorge
Bob Schwarz, Oregon Dept. of Environmental Quality	Mosier Oil Train Derailment and Clean-up
Laura Potash, The Nature Conservancy	Tapash Sustainable Forest Collaborative: Promoting Ecosystem Health and Natural Functions of the Eastern Cascades Landscape
Lucius Caldwell, PhD, Cramer Fish Sciences	Thermal Benefits of Habitat Restoration
David Lindley, Yakama Nation Fisheries	Klickitat Watershed Enhancement Project Update
Joe Zendt, Yakama Nation Fisheries	Characterizing Steelhead Spawning Patterns in the Klickitat River - New Results from Radio Telemetry and Genetic Investigations
Kellie Carmin, PhD, U.S. Forest Service	Environmental DNA Applications for Fisheries Conservation and Management
Elaine Harvey, Yakama Nation Fisheries	Steelhead Populations, Movement, and Habitat Use in Rock Creek (Klickitat County)
Ian Jezorek, USGS Columbia River Research Lab	Fish Field of Dreams: If You Blow It Up, Will They Come? Juvenile Salmonids in the White Salmon River Following Dam Removal

Phil Simpson, Oregon Department of Fish & Wildlife	A Preliminary Summary of Ecological Effects and Fisheries Management Considerations Associated with the Removal of Powerdale Dam (Hood River, OR)
Tyler Beals, Yakama Nation Fisheries	Pacific Lamprey: Keeping the 450 Million-Year Tradition Alive and Strong in the Columbia Basin
OPB EarthFix video (5 mins.)	“Lyle Falls: Tribal Fishing Tradition Runs Deep”